Analysis

Current Law: Maryland's Public Information Act (PIA) establishes that all persons are entitled to have access to information about the affairs of government and the official acts of public officials and employees. Each governmental unit that maintains public records must identify a representative whom a member of the public may contact to request a public record. The Office of the Attorney General (OAG) must post all such contact information on its website and in any Public Information Act Manual published by OAG.

Duties of Custodians

Generally, a custodian of a public record must permit inspection of any public record at any reasonable time. A custodian must designate types of public records that are to be made available to any applicant immediately on request and maintain a current list of the types of public records that have been so designated. Each custodian must adopt reasonable rules or regulations that, consistent with PIA, govern timely production and inspection of a public record. Chapter 658 of 2021 requires each official custodian to adopt a policy of proactive disclosure of public records that are available for inspection under PIA, as specified.

Office of the Public Access Ombudsman – Appointment and Duties

The ombudsman, who must be appointed by the Attorney General and is a full-time State employee, must have been admitted to practice law in the State. The term of the ombudsman is four years.

The Office of the Public Access Ombudsman reviews and resolves disputes between applicants and custodians over requests for public records. Within 90 calendar days after receiving a request for dispute resolution, unless the parties mutually agree to extend the deadline, the ombudsman must issue a final determination stating either that the dispute has been resolved or that the dispute has not been resolved. The ombudsman may not compel a custodian to disclose public records or redacted information.
